OCS Classmate

We called him "Trini". He was a friend. He did what he said he would do. He was a lot of fun to be around. A good Yankee boy who I think of often.

A Friend Remembered

Kenny was a good man. We went to OCS together and we were in the same squad. He was a team player and a leader. Even today three plus decades later, I think about him. His death was a tremendous loss to his young family, and to his friends, but it was not in vain. Because of generations of brave young men like Ken, there is no question that the world is a better place.
