

Colonel Marvin A. Norcross (Class 32-53)

Colonel Norcross served in both the Active and Reserve Army. Positions he held in the Field Artillery include instructor at Fort Sill, Battery Executive Officer with the 213th Field Artillery Battalion in Korea and Reconnaissance and Survey Officer.

He then entered the Veterinary Corps where he served in various positions, culminating as the G-5 of the 352nd CA Command in Riverdale, Maryland, until retirement in 1983.

Doctor Norcross also worked in various veterinary fields in the civilian sector, Department of Agriculture, and Food and Drug Administration until his retirement in 1996. His decorations include the Meritorious Service Medal.