A good man and classmate

Warren and I were OCS classmates, class 24-66. I will always remember his unique sense of humor. Even in our darkest days, he could always find something to laugh about. His passing is a loss to us all.

A memorable soldier

He was an underclassman to me in OCS, and he had one of those unforgettable personalities: fearless, positive, cheerful, and a little irreverent. I was proud to serve with him in Korea. I last saw him when we said so long at the Seattle airport in December 1967.

Thanks "Doc"

Doc, Thank you so much for the ultimate sacrifice. I was in VN when you were killed, but did not hear about your death until I had returned to Ft. Sill for the Career Course. What a waste of lives VN was. How God chooses some to die and some to live, I will never understand. You were one funny guy with that Southern accent of yours. Being originally from Iowa, you always made me smile whenever you spoke. I have thought of you often over the years, so I thought I would write and pay my respects. Thanks again Doc. We miss you. You would have been an old man today. 62 years old. I just wish you could have made it to see that "ripe old age". Your friend from OCS, Bob
